FIRST MEETING OF WAR COUNCIL IS HELD TODAY

Allies' Strategy Board Gets Together in Paris. With Representatives of Six Nations Attending.

Paris, Dec. 6. (U. P.)—The first meeting of the general war council recently organized at the entente allies was held today in Paris.

The council meeting was attended by representatives of France, Great Britain, Japan, Italy, Belgium and Greece. The French commander in chief, General Joffre, presided.

It was reported by General Joffre, aide de camp to Emperor Nicholas II, by General Foch, aide de camp to the Italian army, and by General Staffs.

SHORTAGE IN LABOR MARKET IN ENGLAND DUE TO RECRUITING

London, Nov. 27.—Owing to the recruiting the shortage of men in the labor market has become more acute and has greatly increased the demand for women and young girls as substitutes. Practically everyone capable of working, says the Board of Trade, has been enlisted, and it is evident that still larger numbers of women and girls must be employed in trade and industry as men are recruited.

Compared with October, 1914, there was a shortage of labor in the textile industry in England in November, 1914, in the proportion of 1 to 1.5. The shortage of men in the labor market has become more acute and has greatly increased the demand for women and young girls as substitutes. Practically everyone capable of working, says the Board of Trade, has been enlisted, and it is evident that still larger numbers of women and girls must be employed in trade and industry as men are recruited.

War industries and industries in general, taking effect in October, affecting 150,000 work people amounted to about $112,000 a week.

There is a general scarcity of only men workers, men hands and men, and the demand for work people is still steadily increasing at the rate of 10,000 a week. The shortage of men in the labor market has become more acute and has greatly increased the demand for women and young girls as substitutes. Practically everyone capable of working, says the Board of Trade, has been enlisted, and it is evident that still larger numbers of women and girls must be employed in trade and industry as men are recruited.

LACK OF GERMANIC IMPORTS INJURING SWISS INDUSTRIES

(Associated Press Correspondence) Basle, Switzerland, Nov. 29.—Swiss industries have to grapple with increased difficulties arising from the most part from the want of raw material and the cessation of coal imports from Germany.

In northern and eastern Switzerland a number of works, notably weaving sheds, are idle in spite of ample orders. On the other hand the coal mines industry, the largest and most important of its kind, is doing very well.

Over fifty Swiss manufacturing firms receive no coal from Germany, that country having put them on her black list because of fear of imaginary deliveries of war material to her enemies. It was hoped that the Swiss import trade operations would diminish the general anxiety with which the winter is looked forward to, but people are disappointed with their progress, though everything is being done to put the trust in a practical basis. In any case it cannot be expected to work on business lines for several weeks yet and even then is not likely to overcome all difficulties.

"France Fights Until Germany Is Crushed"

Albert Thomas, Under Secretary for War, Says There Can Be No Peace Menaced by Teuton Imperialism.

(By Evening Herald Special Wire) Paris, Dec. 5 (U. P.)—France will not make peace until Alsace and Lorraine are won, Belgium and Serbia restored, and "German imperialism and Prussian militarism are put beyond the possibility of resurgence," Albert Thomas, under-secretary of war, said yesterday. The declaration of M. Thomas is attracting widespread attention as it is one of the most statements from a responsible cabinet official concerning the attitude of the government in regard to peace.

SECOND WARRANT IS ISSUED FOR C. C. CROWLEY

Man Charged Jointly With Baron von Brincken With Destruction of Commerce Is Re-arrested Today.

(By Evening Herald Special Wire) San Francisco, Dec. 6.—A warrant was issued today for the re-arrest of Charles C. Crowley on a charge of attempting to destroy commerce with the allies. Crowley is charged jointly with Baron George Wilhelm von Brincken, who was arrested Saturday night, but no warrant was issued then for Crowley, who is out under $5,000 bond, on a charge of conspiring to destroy commerce.

Additional bail of $5,000 will be asked on the second charge against Crowley, John W. Ferguson, United States district attorney, said. George A. McElwain, father-in-law of von Brincken, and his attorney, said today that von Brincken was attached to the German consulate general here.

Three witnesses in the case against Crowley were here today, ready to appear before the federal grand jury. Lewis Doyle, a pilot, and E. L. Harro, a stevedore, came here from Seattle to identify Crowley as a man who went on board the steamer Squalon on an hour after the explosion of a large load of powder in the Seattle harbor last May, federal officials said. It was alleged Crowley represented himself as a federal agent.

MARINE CORPS MAN INVENTS PORTABLE TOPOGRAPHIC MAP

Washington, Dec. 7.—A portable military and naval topographical map for use of air scouts in the field, and which will enable them to make quick and realistic reports of observations, has been invented by Gunner Sergeant Herman G. Stroschein of the United States marine corps.

Working gear, operated by telescopic thinning screws from the sides of the map, will create elevations and depressions thereon, showing terrain, contours of valleys, bodies of water, etc., and should make the aviator's report clear to the newest man in the field of operations, Stroschein claims. The map will be very light though strongly built, and it is thought by many military men that one of the great problems confronting aviators in the field—speed and accuracy in observation—will have been overcome by the use of the marine sergeant's invention.

Gunner Sergeant Stroschein is on duty at the headquarters of the United States marine corps in this city.

DENVER WITHOUT MORE RIGHTS THAN OTHERS

Supreme Court Holds That Special Charter Held by City Does Not Exclude It From Legislative Action.

(By Evening Herald Special Wire) Denver, Dec. 6.—The authority of Colorado to enact and enforce statewide prohibition was upheld by the state supreme court today in a unanimous opinion written by Justice W. H. Gabbert.

The court held that cities governed under special charters were without authority to continue traffic in intoxicating liquors after January 1, 1916, where statewide prohibition becomes effective in Colorado, under constitutional statutory enactments.

At the request of Governor George A. Carlson the supreme court took original jurisdiction in the timely suit to secure a judicial interpretation of Colorado's new prohibition legislation and furnish a basis for its enforcement. The action sought to explain the Denver city commissioners from issuing a saloon license to August Koch extending beyond January 1, 1916, when statewide prohibition becomes effective. The commissioners are in jeopardy the license based their action on the fact that Denver is governed under a special charter granted by legislature, and at the municipal election last May the voters adopted a charter amendment which sought to give the municipal officials authority to continue the sale of intoxicants.

SAYS HUSBAND MADE LIFE WITH HIM UNBEARABLE

Mrs. Pahren, Suing for Divorce, Alleges Derelict Helpmeet Capped Ill Treatment by Forcing Her Out of Home.

Alleging that her husband made life with him unbearable, Mrs. Any Pahren has started suit for divorce in the district court. Papers were filed today by her counsel, W. A. Keigher.

She and Fred Pahren were married in Las Vegas in 1912. He capped alleged continued ill-treatment last July, according to the wife's complaint, by forcing her to leave their home. Previous to that time, she avers, he failed at different periods to support her properly.

The couple have one child. Mrs. Pahren says her husband is unfit to have the custody of the child because of his roving disposition. The child, a boy two years old, is a cripple.

THINKS SON IS DEAD BECAUSE HE JOINS THE MARINE 'CORPSE'

Portland, Dec. 6.—Never having used the final "e" in her own spelling of the word "corpse," Mrs. Marceline German of Donaldson, Michigan, was prostrated with grief upon receipt of an official communication announcing the fact that her brother, Joseph E. Julliere, had joined the United States marine corps and had named her as next of kin to be notified in case of death.

"If my brother is a corpse, of what did he die?" she wrote to Captain H. T. Swain in charge of the local recruiting station of the United States marine corps, who had enlisted the man and was responsible for the notification.

The recruiting officer, by return mail, bade the sorrowing sister cease mourning, and assured her that the "corpse" to which her brother had lately attached himself was the "living" kind of an organization.

SYNTHETIC INDIGO UNAVAILABLE; MUCH DEMAND FOR NATURAL

(Associated Press Correspondence) London, Nov. 28.—The absence of the usual supplies of German synthetic indigo from the leading markets of the world has led to an eager demand for the natural product and record prices are being paid for the small quantities of this indispensable blue dye which comes from India. India is the principal producing country but the expanding demand for indigo has led to a revival of the industry in China where interesting developments are expected.

An estimate from the Punjab district of India states that the area under indigo represents over 14 per cent of the total area planted in British India, but the condition of the standing crops is said to be below average, and the yield from all standing crops will probably be small.
